

Announcement

Starting this semester, the Department of Management will relax the enforcement of the minimum attendance policy (70%) for undergraduate courses. Student attendance is encouraged to be incorporated into the participation score, and the weight of which is left to the discretion of the course instructor. Thank you for your attention.

Department of Management

City University of Hong Kong