Prof. Zhu Xindong

The Department of Accountancy is pleased to announce the recipients of this year's General Research Fund (GRF) grants, awarded by the Research Grants Council (RGC), which reflects the outstanding research achievements of our faculty members. We are proud to share that six of our esteemed faculty members have successfully obtained GRF funding:

Principal Investigator	Project Title
Prof. Kim Tae Wook	When Transparency Meets Short-termism: Optimal Contract with Short-Horizon Shareholders
Prof. Li Xuanbo	Do Dark Pool Operators Exploit Order Flow Information? Evidence from Affiliated Funds
Prof. Wang Zheng	Customer Political Ideology Divergence and Information Uncertainty: Evidence from Supplier Firms' Management Forecasts
Prof. Wen Jing	Bidding for Dollars: Liquidity Management and Window Dressing in U.S. Deposit Auctions
Prof. Wong Forester	Do Activist Short Sellers Manipulate Markets? Global Evidence and Counterfactual Benchmarks
Prof. Zhu Xindong	Auditor Professional Versatility: Labor Market Rewards for Interdisciplinary Expertise

The Department congratulates the above faculty members for their outstanding accomplishments. We look forward to more recognition of our faculty's prestigious research in the near future.
