

Expert Talk to Prospective Students from the SMA Santa Ursula (14 January 2025)

21 JANUARY 2025

On 14 January 2025, a delegation from SMA Santa Ursula, a prestigious high school in Jakarta, Indonesia, visited the City University of Hong Kong (CityUHK).

Prof. Raymond Wong, Associate Dean of Undergraduate Programmes at the College of Business and Associate Professor in the Department of Accountancy, was invited to deliver an Expert Talk to the prospective students from SMA Santa Ursula. Prof. Wong shared valuable insights and discussed the concepts surrounding taxation and society during this engaging session, offering an interactive and captivating learning experience. His dynamic presentation helped the students grasp the various learning and development opportunities available within the business field, encouraging them to further explore their potential in this exciting domain.

Expert Talk to Prospective Students from the SMA Santa Ursula (14 January 2025)

The Expert Talk concluded with an interactive Q&A session, in which the students eagerly posed questions. Prof. Wong remarked that the experience was enjoyable and noted the enthusiasm and curiosity of the elite Indonesian high school students. This visit not only fostered valuable connections between CityUHK and SMA Santa Ursula but also served as an excellent opportunity to share knowledge, thus inspiring the next generation of business leaders.