

Paper Co-authored by Professor Kim Jeong Bon Selected by the Northeast Region Chairs to Receive the Best Paper Award

The Department of Accountancy is pleased to announce that a paper co-authored by Prof. Kim Jeong Bon (Acting Dean of College of Business and Chair Professor) titled “Earnings versus Cash Flows in Equity Valuation: Evidence from the COVID-19 Crisis” was selected by the Northeast Region chairs to receive the Best Paper Award at the 2022 Joint Meeting of the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast Regions. The award presentation took place during the virtual meeting held on October 22, 2022.

The Joint Meeting of the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast Regions is an important annual accounting conference organized by the American Accounting Association (AAA). For more details on the 2022 conference, please visit <https://aaahq.org/Meetings/2022/MAR-NE-Joint-Midyear-Meeting>.

The Department of Accountancy (AC) thanks the selection committee for the Best Paper Award at the 2022 Joint Meeting of the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast Regions. We congratulate Prof. Kim and his co-authors on their accomplishments and look forward to more recognition of prestigious research in the near future.
