

College of Business Distinguished Alumni Award 2017

Outstanding MGT alumnus Professor LI Haiyang received College of Business Distinguished Alumni Award, in recognition of his outstanding achievements and contributions to their professions, the University and society.

LI Haiyang obtained his PhD in Management in 1998. He is currently Professor of Strategic Management and Innovation at the Jesse H. Jones Graduate School of Business, Rice University, US. Professor Li's research interests focus on technology entrepreneurship and innovation (particularly in China), strategic alliances and multinational firms' innovation in emerging markets, as well as the growth of China's technology clusters. His research has appeared in top business journals including Academy of Management Journal, Strategic Management Journal, Journal of Marketing, and Organization Science. He has served on editorial review boards of multiple premier journals such as Academy of Management Journal and Strategic Management Journal.